This is a handwritten musical score on aged, yellowed paper. It consists of five staves of music. The notes are diamond-shaped, a characteristic of certain historical musical notations. The lyrics are written in Latin: 'ter ra gloria' (appearing on the first two staves), 'tu a.' (on the third staff), '○ Sanna' (on the fourth staff, with a circle preceding the word), and 'in excel' (on the fifth staff). The paper shows signs of wear, including creases and some staining.

DOMINICALE G. Breitten.

Yrie

DOMINICALE GVIL. BREIT.

The musical score consists of five staves of music. The notation uses diamond-shaped notes on a five-line staff, with a common time signature 'C' at the beginning of each staff. The music is written in a single melodic line. Two large, ornate initials are present: a 'C' at the start of the second staff and a 'K' at the start of the fourth staff. The text 'e leyson.' appears below the first, second, and fifth staves. The text 'ste' appears below the second staff, and 'rie' appears below the fourth staff. The text 'Hri-' appears to the right of the first staff, partially obscured by the 'C' initial.
